Errors and omissions expected (E&OE) is a phrase used to reduce legal liability for potentially incorrect or incomplete information supplied in a contractually related document such as a quotation or specification. Whilst we try our best not to make errors, If you do spot a pricing error, you will still need to pay the correct price. Pricing within this brochure may be subject to change.

As you browse this brochure, please note: Due to the nature of natural stone and terracotta, there will always be colour variation from stone to stone, along with chips and other organic blemishes. Allowances should also be made for size and thickness – particularly so with our more rustic products. These features are an intrinsic part of natural materials, adding beauty, charm and character that will be unique to your home.

The colour of our stone and tiles can vary slightly from the images in this brochure, due to natural variation in stone batches and the limitations of photography and print. To see more images and to order samples, please visit capietra.com

Natural Stone

Ca' Pietra are experts in everything stone; after all, Natural Stone was where we began our journey 30 years ago! Our collection is made up of high quality, unique natural stones that we've carefully curated and refined over decades.

Aside from the organic beauty and timeless character, natural stone is one of the most sustainable flooring types available on the market, so investing in it is making the best use of nature's gift to us.

Reformed Stone

Please remember that natural stone is just that - natural; so variation and blemishes are to be expected, as is the need to seal and maintain the material. We have built up a large collection of photography over the years, so head to our website at capietra.com for more images of any of our beautiful natural stones, and be sure to order samples before placing your final order.

Did you know?

STONE FINISHES

Our stone comes in a range of finishes for aesthetic or practical effect. In a bathroom, for example, a textured finish will provide better slip resistance; whereas if you are restoring a heritage property, an ageing process such as ‘seasoned’ helps match to existing materials.

Please note: these descriptions are only a guide because every stone is unique and reacts to the finishing process differently.

Distressed

The edges of the stone are chipped by hand and cushioned using diamond grinding pads. This process gives a more refined time-worn appearance than our seasoned finish.

Etched

The face of the stone is sand-blasted to create a low-slip finish, perfect for external and wet areas. The process creates a more contemporary ‘bleached’ look, which looks seamless when run from inside to outdoors.

Handmade

Handmade refers to our terracotta collection, where raw clay is worked into moulds by hand, before being left to dry and baked.

Honed

Planing the surface of the stone with a machine at high-pressure, using diamond pads, creates a smooth satin or matt finish. The edges are diamond-sawn and typically contain imperfections; once grouted, these blend into the stone for a truly natural effect.

Reclaimed/Recycled

Genuinely reclaimed products are often more than 100 years old. Each tile varies and requires a little more attention on site to create the perfect finish.

Riven

A riven finish is naturally split along the strata of the stone to create an authentic surface that will vary from stone to stone. Riven stone tends to disguise the wear and tear of everyday family life.

Satino

Satino finished stone undergoes a high-pressure brushing process, to uncover its natural character. The edges are usually straight and slightly rounded.

Seasoned/Heritage

With heavily tumbled edges and a textured surface, which is either naturally-occurring or applied, Seasoned/Heritage stone has a rugged, flagstone effect.

Tumbled

Tumbled stones are individually placed in a jumbo rotating vat, which is full of pebbles, to create naturally soft, round edges, much like pebbles on a beach. This is great for replicating a ‘lived in’ look that is not too rustic.

Tumbled & Etched

This is an extra etching process that is applied to tumbled stone to increase slip resistance. The stone undergoes a washing process that etches the surface, to improve the anti-slip properties whilst retaining its natural warmth and colour.

Velvet/Natural

Velvet/Natural finished stone is first etched, creating a ‘bleached’ look, and then undergoes a satino process which gives it a tactile, velvety feel underfoot. This finish works effectively in both traditional and modern interiors.

Weathered/Vintaged

This finish is the result of an intensive process where the edges of the tile are chipped, exposing an open-grain surface, which authentically replicates the appearance of ancient flagstones.

Worn

A worn finish is created through a smoothing process applied to riven stone, either by hand or machine. This grinds down the natural undulations of the surface to create the effect of old flagstones.

Beaulieu

LIMESTONE • VELVET

This French limestone is an amazing match for an ancient stone from a quarry that was exhausted a hundred or more years ago. This newly quarried stone has all the characteristics of the original classic and offers exceptionally good value for such a high-quality, authentic limestone.

Natural Stone
LIMESTONE, SANDSTONE

The underlying grey in Corfe limestone is ‘bleached’ by the etching process, and so it does look quite different to the other finishes. The etching gives the stone a good grip finish for wet and exterior use as well as a fantastic, tactile look that works well in contemporary interiors.

With deep, moody tones of grey and charcoal highlights and lots of wonderful fossils and natural markings, Corfe limestone is reminiscent of the very hard limestones found on the Isle of Purbeck in Dorset.

Applying the tumbled finish to Corfe limestone adds a soft, rustic look and character to this natural stone. The beautiful moody tone of grey is the perfect foundation for homes.

The tumbled and etched finish has a modern yet rustic look, making it the perfect stone for fuss-free terraces, patios, and pools, whilst offering additional grip indoors.

Grout

RESIN CEMENT GROUT

You've picked your tiles now enjoy picking a grout that either complements or contrasts. The design options are endless. Just remember that if you're using a natural material, we would advise steering clear of grouts that are too dark as they can stain the surface of the stone.

Why choose resin-cement grout?

Applied to interior and exterior walls and floors, resin-cement grout can be used with porcelain and ceramic tiles as well as glass mosaic, natural stone, marble and composite materials, even thin tiles.

Used in homes, commercial and industrial projects, it copes easily with hardwearing heavy traffic as well as swimming pools and water features.
